

Hanging sleeve, attached completely by machine! By Sue Pritt

Before adding binding – make and add the hanging sleeve!
Step 1 - Cut a piece of left-over fabric, double the size of the height of the outside border AND by the width of your quilt.
 (Ex: if border is THREE inches before sewn, then cut the sleeve fabric SIX inches by the quilt width.)

Step 2 – Fold side edges twice, approx. 1/2" for each fold. Press & stitch along folded edge.

Step 3 – Center & place sleeve, face down along top quilt BACK. Stitch 1/8" along top edge.

Step 4 - Flip quilt over to front. Stitch in seam between inside & outside border.

Step 5 – Flip quilt over to back. Remove pins and bring bottom edge of sleeve up and even with quilt top. Stitch 1/8" from top edge.

Two-fabric flanged binding - also completely attached by machine!

Step 1 – Cutting the two fabrics . . .

Cut "contrast" fabric strips 1-1/2" wide

Cut "main" fabric strips 1-1/4" wide

Step 2 - Sew binding strips together with mitered ends, making long binding strips of each fabric. Sew "main" fabric strip AND "contrast" fabric strip - RIGHT sides together with quarter inch seam. Press seam towards main fabric.

Step 3 - Fold in half with wrong sides together - and press again. Make a sharp press!

Step 4 – Using your walking foot . . . Sew binding to BACK of quilt with quarter inch seam AND "main" fabric facing quilt back. Leave 4 to 5 inches for joining ends.

Step 5 – Press then turn binding over to front. Join ends. Using thread matching contrast fabric, stitch "in-the-ditch" between the two fabrics. TIP: snip a little batting away from corners; less bulk.
